It ain t complicated
Well, I ve grown to hate it
    Am
I never liked the taste of crow but baby I ate it
               G
They tried to warn me
They said that you were ornery
So don t bring me those big brown eyes and tell me that you re sorry
Am C
Well you might as well throw gasoline on a fire

You lie like a priceless Persian rug on a rich man s floor
You lie like a coon dog basking in the sunshine on my porch
      D C
You lie like a penny in the parking lot at the grocery store
It just comes way too natural to you

That ain t my perfume
I bet she had a curfew
You told me you were out with the boys and baby I believed you
```

It just comes so dang natural to you
