At the age of 32 still don t know what to do or who I m supposed to be

F#M E D

was it you or was it me feels like I m drowning in the big black sea

F#M E D D

is there a place you can call your home is there a place where you belong

F#M E D

still searthing still searthing for my path

yeah i am

still searthing still searthing for my path

or are you going to end up like the pore pore boy who lives next door to you dirty with a bottle in his hand Messed up he could not even stand trying to do my best don t know if that s god be enough to pass the test if you believe in me and I believe in you maybe I don t have to feel like a fool

F#M E D

still searthing still searthing for my path

yeah i am

still searthing still searthing for my path now ten more years have passed and I m standing here at least wondering how did I do with a bottle in my hand messed up could not even stand I came to the conclusion something when worn I don t know where I belong no place to call my one took another bottle in my hand and told myself now its time to make the stand

F#M E D

still searthing still searthing for my path

yeah i am

F#M E D

still searthing still searthing for my path

F#M E D

still searthing still searthing for my path

yeah i am
