

The Unfaithful Servant
The Band

A E B Bm7
Unfaithful Servant, I hear you leavin soon in the mornin
A E F# B
What did you do to the lady, that she s gonna have to send you away?
A E B Bm7
Unfaithful servant, you don t have to say you re sorry,
A E F# B
If you done it just for the spite, or did ya do it just for the glory?
C#m B
Like a stranger you turned your back,
Bm A G#
Left your keys and gone to pack.
C#m Am
Bear in mind who s to blame, and all the shame;
F# F#m7 F
She really cared, the time she spared and the home you shared.

Unfaithful servant, I can hear the whistle blowin,
Yes, that train is a-comin and soon you ll be goin .
Let us not bow our heads for we won t be complainin ;
Life has been good to us all
even when that sky is rainin .
To take it like a grain of salt is all I can do. It s no one s fault,
Makes no diff rence if we fade away.
It s just as it was, it s much to cold for me to stay.

A E
Goodbye to that country home,
B Bm7
So long to a lady I have known,
A E
Farewell to my other side,
F# B
I d best just take it in stride.
A E B Bm7
Unfaithful Servant, you ll learn to find your place;
A E
I can see it in your smile,
F# B
and, yes, I can see it in your face.
C#m B
The mem ries will linger on,
Bm A G#
But the good old days, they re all gone,
C#m Am
Oh! Lonesome servant, can t you see,

F#

F#m

F

That we re still one and the same, just you and me.