

The Unfaithful Servant
The Band

G D A Am7
Unfaithful Servant, I hear you leavin soon in the mornin
G D E A
What did you do to the lady, that she s gonna have to send you away?
G D A Am7
Unfaithful servant, you don t have to say you re sorry,
G D E A
If you done it just for the spite, or did ya do it just for the glory?
Bm A
Like a stranger you turned your back,
Am G F#
Left your keys and gone to pack.
Bm Gm
Bear in mind who s to blame, and all the shame;
E Em7 Eb
She really cared, the time she spared and the home you shared.

Unfaithful servant, I can hear the whistle blowin,
Yes, that train is a-comin and soon you ll be goin .
Let us not bow our heads for we won t be complainin ;
Life has been good to us all even when that sky is rainin .
To take it like a grain of salt is all I can do. It s no one s fault,
Makes no diff rence if we fade away.
It s just as it was, it s much to cold for me to stay.

G D
Goodbye to that country home,
A Am7
So long to a lady I have known,
G D
Farewell to my other side,
E A
I d best just take it in stride.
G D A Am7
Unfaithful Servant, you ll learn to find your place;
G D
I can see it in your smile,
E A
and, yes, I can see it in your face.
Bm A
The mem ries will linger on,
Am G F#
But the good old days, they re all gone,
Bm Gm
Oh! Lonesome servant, can t you see,

E

Em

Eb

That we re still one and the same, just you and me.