The true story of Barbarians drummer Victor Moultly Moulton, who lost his left hand at age 14 when a homemade pipe bomb exploded prematurely. When I was a beat-crazed teen I thought Moulty was just about the coolest guy in the history of the eardrum (as a beat-crazed middle-ager I still do) and named my first band The Moults in his honor. Go back to my home directory and follow the appropriate link to find out what Moulty is up to nowadays. --AWR

"Moultly"

Verse 1:

(spoken):

[tab] G9
I remember the days when things were real bad for me[/tab]
[tab] Fmaj7 G9
It was right after my accident, when I lost my hand[/tab]
[tab] Fmaj7
It seemed like I was all alone, with nobody to help me[/tab]

[tab]                Em                                F
You know, I almost gave up all my hopes and dreams[/tab]
[tab]                G
But then - then - then something inside me kept tellin me[/tab]
[tab]                G7
Way down inside of me - over and over again[/tab]
[tab]                G9
To keep goin on - yeah, on![/tab]

Chorus 1:

[tab]          C      F      G      F      [bass: bend D to Eb]
MoultY![/tab]

[tab] C          F          G          F
Don t turn away (you re gonna make it, baby)[/tab]
[tab] C          F          G          F
Don t turn away (ah, try to make it, baby)[/tab]
[tab] C          F/A /F Eb      G
Don t turn away[/tab]

Verse 2:

Things are better for me now cause I found that I love music
So I learned to play the drums and got myself a band, and now
we re startin to make it
And if you can make it at somethin you love - wow, you got it all!

So I m sayin this to all of you
All of you who think you ll never make it
All of you guys and girls cause you think you re so bad off
Or maybe you think you re a little different or strange
So listen to me, now, cause I ve lived through it all

Chorus:

Moulty!
Don t turn away (you gotta keep on tryin )
Don t turn away (well, don t you give up, baby)
Don t turn away

Verse 3 (first three lines only):

Now there s just one thing that I need - not sympathy, and I don t
need no pity -
But a girl - a real girl - one who really loves me - and then I ll be the complete man.
So I m gonna tell you - right now - listen!

Coda [repeat to fade]:

[tab] C F G F
Don t turn away (you gotta <unintelligible> baby)[/tab]
[tab] C F G F

Don t turn away (you gotta keep on tryin )[/tab]
