Ann And Joe

(Fade out)

```
The Barron Knights
Fm ///
Long ago...
Fm ///
                      Eb ///
Outside a chip shop in Walthamstow,
                          C# ///
Was a young rocker called Greasy Joe,
                          C ///
                                           C ///
  C# ///
He put on his helmet, and said "let s go!―
Fm ///
He was keen,
Fm ///
                            Eb ///
Off up the High Street like Barry Sheene,
                      C# ///
Doing his best to look very mean,
C# ///
                      C ///
                                    C ///
Till he met Ann on a new machine,
F ///
Rrrrummm-ing away together,
Rrrrummm-ing away in leather,
Bb ///
           Bb ///
Ann and Joe,
                F ///
They passed the Bloody Tower
            Bb ///
At a hundred miles an hour,
             F ///
And they were so amazed,
         Bb ///
The Tower Bridge was raised,
             F ///
They raced up to the top,
              Bb ///
And found they couldn t stop,
                F ///
They flew right off the end,
          Bb ///
And landed in the Thames,
        C ///
Hand in hand...
```