All Things Must Pass
The Beatles

Intro 2x: E  A
E                              A

Sunrise doesn't last all morning
E                              A

A cloudburst doesn't last all day
E                              A

It seems my love is up and has left you with no warning
E                              A

It's not always gonna be this grey

Refrão:
Bm     A      A4    A

All things must pass
E                              A

All things must pass away
E                              A

Sunset doesn't last all evening
E                              A

A mind can blow those clouds away
E                              A

After all this my love is up and must be leaving
E                              A
It's not always gonna be this grey
Bm           A     A4    A
All things must pass
Bm                       A
None of life's strings can last
   E
So I must be on my way
   A
To face another day
E                           A
Now the darkness only stays the nighttime
E                     A
In the morning it will fade away
E                           A
Daylight is good at arriving at the right time
E                     A
It's not always gonna be this grey
Bm                     A
All things must pass
   E                  A
All things must pass away
