

Too Bad About Sorrows
The Beatles

This is the first song that John and Paul ever wrote together:

The Beatles
Too Bad About Sorrows
(Lennon/McCartney)

(VERSE 1):

|                           |          |            |
|---------------------------|----------|------------|
|                           | A | C#m |
| Too bad about sorrows     |          |            |
| C#m                |          |            |
| Too bad about love        |          |            |
| F#m                |          |            |
| Thereâ€™ll be no tomorrow |          |            |
| E7                 |          |            |
| For all of your love      |          |            |

(VERSE 2):

|                               |          |            |
|-------------------------------|----------|------------|
|                               | A | C#m |
| You said you were sleeping    |          |            |
| C#m                    |          |            |
| But I canâ€™t forget          |          |            |
| F#m                    |          |            |
| The troubles youâ€™re leaving |          |            |
| E7                     |          |            |
| Donâ€™t be like that          |          |            |

(CODA):
