```

```
G#                  C#
Through ugly pints and Sunday breath
      F#        G#        C#/E
Sit men whose stare is cold as breath
          G#                  C#
Through wide lapels and glued up eyes
          F#      G#        C#
Through made up kids and made up wives
```

```
  C#7
Sitting in the heart of them
       F#
Is a man who s not like other men
  C#7
Don t you know just who I am
    F#                         G#7
A nod, a wink, I am the domino man.
```

```
          G#        C#
And if you pull a double one
       F#        G#        C#
I ll pack may bags and I ll be gone
G#                  C#
If you pull a three and four
        F#      G#          C#
I m flying off to Singapore
         F#      G#        C#
Where women dance and tigers roar
        F#    G#        C#
I m lying on a distant shore
         G#            C#
I m living life as fast as I can
    F#      G#      F#      G#                  C#
A nod, a wink, another drink, I am the domino man.
```

```
           G#                            C#
Through a twenty deep screen of humorists
              F#      G#         C#/E
Through slavering jaws and angry fists
          G#                          C#
Through tales of mishap and the clickety-clack
      F#           G#             C#
Is a fully paid memeber of the brother of the tap

         C#7
Through heavy smoke and idle bets
            F#
Through heaving lungs and heavy debts
  C#7
Sits a man who knows he can
    F#                              G#7
A nod, a wink, I am the domino man.

           G#        C#
And if you pull a two and six
        F#        G#        C#
I ll pack my bags and take the risk
      G#                C#
And if you pull a four and five
           F#     G#          C#
They ll never take this man alive
        F#        G#          C#
I ll go far east and I ll survive
         F#        G#          C#
The market streets I ll duck and dive
        G#               C#
I m living life as fast as I can
     F#      G#      F#       G#                 C#
A nod, a wink, another drink, I am the domino man.

      G#                     C#              F# G# C#
And when he s off to sail the seven seas
      G#             C#                   F# G# C#
He just stays indoors or hides up trees
        G#               C#                 F# G# C#
He s been to places that you ve never seen
           G#                                  G#7
But his mind is blank and his passport s clean

            G#        C#
And if you pull a two and six
        F#        G#        C#
I ll pack my bags and take the risk
      G#                C#
And if you pull a four and five
           F#     G#          C#
They ll never take this man alive
        F#        G#          C#
```

I ll go far east and I ll survive
       F#   G#   C#
The market streets I ll duck and dive
       G#   C#
I m living life as fast as I can
    F#   G#   F#   G#   C#
A nod, a wink, another drink, I am the domino man.
