Couldn t have known that you

Would feel so undersold

If love was built on hindsight

E

Then you surely would have seen

A

You were joining hands

With the Tupperware Queen

Yes you gave a groan

When I took that throne

But can you choose a Queen

When you behave like a drone

Where the silverware s not expected

And certainly never been

That s the ideal kingdom

Of this Tupperware Queen

I didn t mean to fool you

Into feeling King

Of anything but plastic

And what plastic brings

If gold is what she had

It s what I could ve been

The unaffordable dream

Of this Tupperware Queen

Yes you gave a groan

When I took that throne

But don t expect a gem

When you re quarrying for stone

Where the silverware s not expected

And certainty never been

That s the ideal kingdom

Of this Tupperware Queen

In future when that moan
Has turned to prone
And the slightest groan
Feels so overblown
Remember you re a drone
And the Queen however plastic
Runs the honeycomb
Runs the honeycomb

Honeycomb, honey, honey
Remember you re a drone
Runs the honeycomb
