

Hold Me In Your Arms
The Black Keys

Tabbed by: Shiggedyshwa

Tuning: Standard

There is an intro that i do not have tabbed.

Beginning: It is slow and it speeds up and gets into the main riff [the 5/4 slide is and you have to make sure it is two notes it is not just hitting the 5 really quick it is making 5 sound and then sliding to 4]

```
e|-----|
B|-----|
G|-----7-----|
D|--0-----5/4---0-----0-----| (x3 then it gets
A|-----3sb-----5sb~-----|      Faster)
```

```
e|-----|
B|-----|
G|-----7-----| (x..a lot)
D|--0-----5/4---0-----0-----|
A|-----3sb-----5sb~-----|

| / slide up
| slide down
| h hammer-on
| p pull-off
| ~ vibrato
| + harmonic
| x Mute note
| sb (look Below)

There are a few(every time it goes on the 3rd and 5th fret of A string) bends that arent bends. Sounds best if you just bend barely like you are trying to make it ring but a harder than that but a little less than a half bend. so for those i use sb as the symbol.

This was my first tab of a real song that isnt a theme song for some random show. I was of myself i learned it by myself :) And it is Not just the intro but it isnt really the whole song either but there are just little fills and this main riff is most of the song.

There are little fills here and there i haven t really got those yet :
Well, i hope you enjoy ^_^
Comments are welcome :)
