[Verse]

D                            A                            G                            D
As you walk along you hear somebody speak aloud
D            A                            G                            D
As you pass by, you see the gathering of a crowd
D                            A                            G                            D
You join in just to see what s going about
D                            A                            G                            D
And everybody s talking and then they begin to shout

[Chorus]

C            Am                            G                            D
There he is, he s the king of the soapbox
C            Am                            G                            D
There he is, he s the king of the soapbox

[Verse]

D                            A                            G                            D
As he walks and marches, selling him hand printed pants
D                            A                            G                            D
He s just telling you about the different places he s been
D            A                            G                            D
He ll tell you all about life even though his mind is shot
D                            A                            G                            D
He thinks he s got everything, yeah, you know it s nothing he s got, cmon

[Chorus]

C            Am                            G                            D

There he is, he s the king of the soapbox
C Am G D
There he is, he s the king of the soapbox
