The Byrds                      I Trust                      written by Roger McGuinn

[tab]C                              C7 F
In times of despair              I think about the good things that you ve[/tab]
[tab]C
done[/tab]
[tab] F                              F/E Dm7                              C
And though you re not there I sometimes ask myself is anyone[/tab]
[tab] Dm                              F                              G
It s so hard being human when the whole world s uptight[/tab]
[tab] F Dm7                              C
But somehow I know that everything is gonna work out alright[/tab]
[tab]C                              C7 F                              C
I might lose my patience              but won t you please try to understand[/tab]
[tab]F                              F/E Dm7                              C
I ve got obligations and I intend to face them and take my stand[/tab]
[tab] Dm                              F                              G
It s so hard being human when only trouble s in sight[/tab]
[tab] F Dm7                              C
But somehow I know that everything is gonna work out alright[/tab]
[tab]G                              F                              C                              F                              C
Stick by me baby in spite of my faults that s all I want you to do[/tab]
[tab]Am                              G#dim C                              D7 F                              Dm7 G7
And try and help me when I m down and I ll take good care of you[/tab]
[tab]C                              C7 F                              C
Now I want to thank you              for all the tender loving that you give[/tab]
[tab] F                              Dm7                              C
It brightens my feelings and gives me strength I need to live[/tab]
[tab] Dm                              F                              G
It s so hard being human when only troubles in sight[/tab]
[tab] F Dm7                              C
But somehow I know that everything is gonna work out alright[/tab]
[tab] F Dm7                              C
Somehow I know that everything is gonna work out alright[/tab]
