

Flower Of Scotland
The Corries

OKAY, for some reason it will not let me add the CAPO 2 version
It keeps changing the chords to different chords

I think the original is in F#? Someone will correct me if that s wrong
I m sure.

So try putting your CAPO on the 2nd FRET and playing in E
Transpose to +9 to see the song in the Key of E.

You can also transpose to +7 and CAPO on 3 for another version.
My daughter prefers singing in the Key Of D

For singing down the pub? The key of G seems to suit most everyone.

Takes yer pick

Hope you enjoy

- flatwound -

FLOWER OF SCOTLAND

NO CAPO | CAPO 3rd FRET

G		D
D		A
C		G
F		C

G G D G G
Oh flower of Scotland, When will we see your like again

C G D G
That fought and died for, Your wee bit, Hill and glen

C G C G
And stood against him, Proud Edward s army

C G F G
And sent him homeward, To think again

G G D G G
The hills are bare now, And autumn leaves lie thick and still

C G D G
O er land that is lost now, Which those so, dearly held

C G C G
And stood against him, Proud Edward s army

C G F G
And sent him homeward, To think again

G G D G G
 Those days are passed now, And in the past they must remain
 C G D G
 But we can still rise now, And be the nation a-gain
 C G C G
 That stood against him, Proud Edward s army
 C G F G G
 And sent him homeward, To think again

G G D G
 The hills are bare now, And autumn leaves lie thick and still
 C G D G
 O er land that is lost now, Which those so, dearly held
 G G D G
 Oh flower of Scotland, When will we see your like again
 C G D G
 That fought and died for, Your wee bit, Hill and glen
 C G C G
 And stood against him, Proud Edward s army
 C G F G
 And sent him homeward, To think again