Whisper
The Dear Hunter

[Intro]

E          A           F#m          E          F#m

[Verse]
```
         E                                          A
There s shadows on the walls of moments far too troubling to recall.
                              F#m
All the settings and the scenes that signal suffering impassioned pleas that E                    F#m
ended in a whisper.
```

[Verse 2]
```
     E                                              A
And all the lessons learned, were they worth the ash from all the bridges burned?
                        F#m
Standing, stomping in the damage and the ruins of the slip of tongue with E tragic consequences.
```

[Pre-Chorus]
```
       A
But I think that we ve all made our gravest mistakes on the greatest E
intentions that we re too stubborn to let go.
```

[Chorus]
```
(E)                        A                 F#m
With this little time before I go, I ll open up my mouth and scream it out
                              E              F#m
to cast my voice into the crowd.
```

[Verse 3]
```
E                                    A
Now that you re alone, is it really so impossible to know all the actions
     F#m                                                      E
and reactions pinned against each other never really end just how you wanted?
```

[Pre-Chorus]
```
       A
                                            E
intentions that we re too stubborn to let go.
```

[Chorus]
```
(E)                        A                 F#m
```

With this little time before I go, I ll open up my mouth and scream it out
                                E
to cast my voice into the crowd.
E            (E)(F#m)(G#m)(E)   A                          F#m
I know that all of this will come and go, so open up your mouth and scream
                                            E
it out to cast your voice into the crowd.

[Outro]
F#m                                              E
Don t let the world, don t let the world beat you down.
F#m                                              E
Don t let the world, don t let the world beat you down.
(E)
So open up your mouth and scream it out to cast your voice into the crowd.
F#m                                              E
Don t let the world, don t let the world beat you down.
(E)
So open up your mouth and scream it out to cast your voice into the crowd.
F#m                                              E
Don t let the world, don t let the world beat you down.
(E)
So open up your mouth and scream it out to cast your voice into the crowd.
