

The Best I Never Had
The Downtown Fiction

(verse 1)

I knew you once, you never knew me then.
Afraid to ever say I wanted to be friends,
but now the years have passed, you re far away.
But suddenly I feel I m not the same.
The walls are breaking down, I think I m crackin up,
I look around, everything s too much...

(refrão)

And the world is spinning much too fast,
well I can hardly catch my breath and I just hope that this will last.
The world is slipping from my grasp,
I m looking round to find the girl I left behind,
you were the best I never had.

(verso 2)

Remember when I saw you in the hall?
You passed right by my stare, not noticing at all.
If I had the guts, I d catch your glance,
but I am just the boy without a chance.
The walls are breaking down, I think I m crackin up,
I look around, everything s too much...

(refrão)

And the world is spinning much too fast,
well I can hardly catch my breath and I just hope that this will last.
The world is slipping from my grasp,

I m looking round to find the girl I left behind,
you were the best I never had.

You re the best I never had

(refrão)

And the world is spinning much too fast,
well I can hardly catch my breath and I just hope that this will last.

The world is slipping from my grasp,

I m looking round to find the girl I left behind,
you were the best I never had.

You re the best I never had.

You re the best I never had.

I m looking round to find the girl I left behind,
you were the best I never had.