

I Dont Mind
The Eames Era

I noticed that there are almost literally no chords/tabs for The Eames Era, which is extremely disheartening. I will try to make some.

I m a novice guitar player, so a few chords might be off/missing, but something is better than nothing. This sounded fine to me when I played it.

Capo 2

Intro
G (x16) A

D F#m Em F#m

D
And I don t mind
F#m Em
That everything s a mess right now
A
I could care less
D
And ideally
F#m Em
That a bit of harm never hurt
A
Anyone
D F#m Em
I ve plotted out a route to take us into a place kinda like
A
Where we re now
D F#m Em
Except this time I think you re gonna need a pair of mittens for
A
The frozen air
G
I will gladly
A
Navigate things
D G
You look out for sharp rocks
A G
But I do believe I ve found that elusive Bering Strait
A
And if you d like to we could...

D F#m Em F#m

D

So we ll sit there

F#m Em
And stare into thin air

Light that match

A

Now watch it flare

D

And kiss hello

F#m Em
To a ground laid with snow

Where nothing s left

A

But frozen air

D

F#m

Em

There won t be any green I fear on trees or even below

A

Our frozen toes

D

F#m

Em

But the tundras match the clouds at night and on a clear day you can see

A

Next Saturday

G

Build our home

A

Out of snow

D

G

From the first glacier we find

A

But I do believe I ve fallen

G

Into a nasty crevice

A

Laced with ice so now what?
