

Sing When You're In Love
The Enemy

A A E A

E

On dance floors from London to Liverpool

A

in the dark of the night, when the air is cool

E

out in the street in the pouring rain

A

in a concrete jungle that echoes your name

E A

E

In a hundred hotel rooms, where a few hundred sleep

A

in a thousand cheap boozes, where young lovers meet

E

in the million miles of traffic jams, we waste away time

A

in a single sad movement, when we say our goodbyes

E

A

Sing When You're In Love, Sing When You're out of love

E

A

Sing When You're In Love, Sing When You're out of love

E

Sing in your bedroom when you go home

A

through the broken door to your broken home

E

sing to the memory of a different past

A

Sing to yourself and a bottom of a glass

E

A

Sing when you're in Love, Sing When You're out of love

E

A

Sing when you're in Love, Sing When You're out of love
