

The Eyes Of Asia
The Everly Brothers

The Eyes of Asia

D G A D
Yes it was loving you that drove me from my mind
G A D
Yes it was touching you that made the heartache mine
G A G A
This time for certain, certain this time
G D G A D
The eyes of Asia are the eyes of an old-fashioned girl

D G A D
Yes it was being there that made the pleasure mine
G A D
And oh how the crowd would cheer when the clown forgot his lines
G A G A
This time for certain, certain this time
G D G A D
The eyes of Asia are the eyes of an old-fashioned girl

So what are you looking for, has the table got no wine
How can you walk away when the conversation's mine
This time for certain - certain this time
The eyes of Asia are the eyes of an old-fashioned girl

Where will the banquet be, will the harvest be on time
How will the forest look when the blind man blows his mind
This time for certain - certain this time
The eyes of Asia are the eyes of an old-fashioned girl
Are the eyes of an old-fashioned girl

PS: Don Everly's solo song

by: Josã© Duarte
jtduartel@gmail.com