G                    C
New front door, same address
G
Same front step, same back-porch
Am
Geraniums to the terrace
G                    C
Sold my shoes to pay the rent
D                    Em
I won t be needing them
D                    Em
I won t be leaving too soon

G                    C
Oh my dear, do undress
G                    Am
You look so different in those new shoes
G                    C
To impress someone you have never met
D                    Em
Someone you already know
D                    Em
Is waiting behind my front door

G                    D
And by the door you know I ll wait
Em                    C                    G

Oh, by the window, by the gate

D Em C

I m waiting for your sound

G D

So softly, dear, don t hesitate

Em C G

The lion looms along the lake

D Em C

And swallows every sound

G C

But oh, I wish that I could take

G

That simple lonely way

C

That long cold lonely way

D

But these days it takes more than two feet

C

It takes four to fill the road

G D

I fend and swing the axe at for

G D

I ve trampled all over the place

Em C G

Swung to and fro and still no state

D Em C

Has held me in its bounds

G D

But by the bridge I d like to stay

Em C G

Oh, by the ocean, by the bay

D Em C

And hope that you ll come around

G C

Oh, my dear, do undress

G Am

You look so different in those new clothes

G C

To impress someone you have never met

D Em

I m the one needing you

D Em

I m the one with no shoes

G D
So by the door you know I ll wait
Em C G
Oh, looking out the golden gate
D Em C Em
She yawns into the morning...
