Go To Sleep Alone
by Joe

By the Flatlanders (sung

Ely - Jimmie Dale Gilmore does a version also and in the same key). The Dm could be a D, but I m not sure. Feel free to tell me what you hear. Enjoy. Thanks!

C G
Well you may dance the night away and laugh among the stars
G C
And you may spill the Milky Way and dance among the bars
C F Dm
And you may wake the rafters and break the heart of stone
G C
But you got to go to sleep alone

Chorus

F C
Youâ€™ve got to go to sleep alone
F C
Youâ€™ve got to go to sleep alone
F C
And even if youâ€™re lying with (2nd chorus â€" â€œtoâ€•) somebody
G C
Still youâ€™ve got to go to sleep alone

Well you may climb the golden stairs when weâ€™re past Jacob â€™s Ladder
And you may put on golden airs and make the rich get sadder
You may learn the golden rule and sit on a golden throne
But you got to go to sleep alone

Chorus

Well you may wake up in the night and wonder if youâ€™re dreaming
And referee the fights between the being and the seeming
And when the victor holds your hand up to the great unknown
You got to go back to sleep alone

Chorus

Youâ€™ve got to go to sleep alone
Youâ€™ve got to go to sleep alone
F C Am
Even if youâ€™re lying with somebody you really love
G C
Still youâ€™ve got to go to sleep alone
