In this endless space,

looking for Gods given grace

Among countless scattered dying stars

by the fireplaces we found some comfort

Like fading tribe

on the ocean wide

In a random flash we live and die

Searching all religions, reason why

[Chorus]

Waiting all to serve a greater purpose

or to join the cosmic circus now

[Verse 3] (Same as Verse 2)

From the habbit hole, to the frozen poles we have filled our hearts with poetry while science was our leading star

On to million suns

where our fading memories dance

While we try so hard to understand the untold genesis of man

[Chorus]

Waiting all to serve a greater purpose
