

Red Rose Cafe
The Fureys

[Verse 1]

Am

They come from the farms and the factories too,

E

And they all soon forget who they are

The cares of today are soon washed away

Am

As they sit on a stool by the bar

The girl with green eyes in the rolling stones shirt

Dm

Doesn't look like she works on the land

Am

The man at the end is a very good friend

E

A

Of a man who sells cars second hand

[Chorus]

A

Down at the red rose cafe in the harbour

E

There by the port just outside Amsterdam

D

A

Everyone shares in the songs and the laughter

E

Am

Everyone there is so happy to be there

[Verse 2]

Am

The salesmen relax with a few pints of beer

E

And they try not to speak about trade

The poet won't write any verses tonight

Am

he may sing a sweet serenade

So pull up a chair and forget about life

Dm

It's a good thing to do now and then

Am

And if you like it here I have an idea

E

A

Tomorrow let's all meet again

[Chorus]

A

Down at the red rose cafe in the harbour

E

There by the port just outside Amsterdam

D

A

Everyone shares in the songs and the laughter

E

A

Everyone there is so happy to be there

Down at the red rose cafe in the harbour

E

There by the port just outside Amsterdam

D

A

Everyone shares in the songs and the laughter

E

A

F

Everyone there is so happy to be there

[Chorus] (key change)

Bb

Down at the red rose cafe in the harbour

F

There by the port just outside Amsterdam

Eb

Eb

Everyone shares in the songs and the laughter

F

Bb

Everyone there is so happy to be there

(fade out)

Bb

Down at the red rose cafe in the harbour

F

There by the port just outside Amsterdam

Eb

Eb

Everyone shares in the songs and the laughter

F

Bb

Everyone there is so happy to be there.