HEREâ€™S LOOKING AT YOU KID

C Am
You can tell Gayle, if she calls,
F G
that I m famous now for all of these rock and roll songs.
C Am F G
And even if that s a lie, she should ve given me a try.
Am G F C
When we were kids on the field of the first day of school.
Am G F
I would ve been her fool.
Am G F C
And I would ve sang out your name in those old high school halls.
C G C
You tell that to Gayle, if she calls.

And you can tell Jane, if she writes, that I m drunk off all these stars and all these crazy Hollywood nights.
That s total deceit, but she should ve married me.
And tell her I spent every night of my youth on the floor,
bleeding out from all these wounds.
I would ve gotten her a ride out of that town she despised.
You tell that to Janey, if she writes.

Am F C G
But boys will be boys and girls have those eyes
Am F C G
that will cut you to ribbons sometimes.
Am F C G
And all you can do is just wait by the moon
Am F C G
and bleed if it s what she says you oughta do.

C Am
You remind Nana, if she asks why,
F G
that a thief stole my heart while she was making up her mind.
C Am
I heard she lives in Brooklyn with the cool,
F G
goes crazy over that New York scene on 7th Avenue.

 And the waiter served my coffee with a consolation sigh.

 You remind Nana, if she asks why.
