Bb

It took so long to get me back on my feet

Bb

It takes so long to find the words and the beat

And Charlie s waiting on the end of the phone

Gm F

To hear you call on him to try to recapture

Bb

But them old records won t be saving your soul

Bb

And them feelings got the reasons you know

That you ve forgotten somewhere

Gm

Riding a train to place

F

You are out in the cold cold

Gm Cm F

And it feels like all you d have to do is step outside

Gm Cm

Stop pacing around and waiting for some moment

Bb F

That might never arrive

Bb Gm

But you re never gonna find it

Eb

Like when you were young

Eb F

And everybody used to call you lucky

Pre-Verse

Bb / Bb

Bb

Nothing feels right in the wintery cold

Bb

Steam, heat, clang, and the dark at your door

All the other rooms are a party tonight

Gm F

And you never got an invitation

Bb

And you feel in your bones, steady aching some more

Bb

Twenty five years gone just an hour ago

Momma never told me there'd be days like these

G F

Until it was much too late to recover

Gm Cm F

And it feels like all you'd have to do is step outside

Gm Cm Bb F

Stop pacing around and waiting for some moment that might never arrive

Bb Gm

But you're never gonna find it

Em Bb

When your knees got so weak

Bb Gm

But it's right here in case you need it

Eb

Like when you were young

Bb F

And everybody used to call you lucky

Eb

When you were young

Bb F

And everybody used to call you lucky

Gm Cm F

But it feels like you just might explode inside

Gm

You've been pacing around and waiting

Cm Bb F

For some moment that might never arrive at all

Bb Gm F

What you don't have, you don't need it anymore

Bb Gm F Bb

What you don't have, you don't need it anymore

Bb Gm

But you re never gonna find it

Eb Bb F

When your knees got so weak

Bb Gm

And it s right here in case you need it

Eb

Like when you were young

Bb F

And everybody used to call you lucky

When you were young

And everybody used to call you lucky

If you re anywhere in Manhattan

In the next eight days or so

Let me know

Speak soon, stay lucky.
