When the sun goes down o er Dublin town, the colors last for hours, oh
The lights come on, the night s a song and the streets all turn to gold.
A gentle mist all heaven kissed, like teardrops off an angel s wing
Don t you know you ll cleanse your soul with a walk in the Irish rain.

Oh, Katherine, take my hand, I ve got three pounds and change
And I ll sing you songs of love again dnd when I get too drunk to sing
We ll walk in the Irish rain.

Forever more I ve stepped ashore, my sailing days are over, oh
Through time and tide and by your side together we ll grow old.
I threw my sea bag in the bin and brought these pretty flowers home
Kiss me Kate, we ll celebrate before the bloom is gone.

Oh, Katherine, take my hand, I ve got three pounds and change
And I ll sing you songs of love again dnd when I get too drunk to sing
We ll walk in the Irish rain.

(G# capella)
A tinker and a tailor and a drunken old sailor
They all get together and they start to play
Time stands still while they sing their fill
They ll shout til the break of day.

A sweet little lady with a glass of stout

Sippin it down til the foam runs out

She ll help her old man home again with a walk in the Irish rain.

Oh, Katherine, take my hand, I ve got three pounds and change

And I ll sing you songs of love again and when I get too drunk to sing

We ll walk in the Irish rain.
