

Intro: C Csus C/G G x2

C Em Am7 C/G

Has anybody here seen a chick called Dick?

F Am7 D

He looks real burly but he s really hip.

G Csus C Csus

He s six feet tall and his arms are all brown and hairy.

C Em Am7

He married Betty Lou back in sixty-five,

C/G F Am7 D

When you had to be butch to survive

G Csus C Csus

But lately he s been looking at his wife with mixed emotions.

Am7 D7

You see, he s not a common place closet queen.

Am7

He shouldn t be hidden, he should be seen.

F Am7 D7 G C

Cos when he puts on that dress, he looks like a princess.

C Em Am7 C/G

The day he came out of the wardrobe,

F Am7 D

Betty Lou got quite a surprise.

G Csus C Csus

She didn t know whether she should get angry or not bat an eye.

                                Am7 C/G
She really couldn t call up her mama;
 F
            Am7 D
Mama would positively die.
          G
                                                        C
                                                             Csus C Csus
Should she go or stay or should she try to get a trial separation?
You see, he s not a faggot as you might suppose.
       Am7
He just feels restricted in conventional clothes.
            F Am7 D7
                                       G
Cos when he puts on that dress, he feels like a princess.
Bridge
He s not a dandy, he s only living out a fantasy.
He s not a pansy, he s only being what he wants to be.
Now his life is rearranged,
                Em7 Am7 C/G
And he s grateful for the change.
                            G
                                                     С
He s out of the wardrobe, and now he s got no regrets.

                Εm
Betty Lou didn t know what to do at first,
                     Am7
But she s learning to cope at last.
```

She s got the best of both worlds, and she s really in a state of elation.

She says it helps their relationship.

F Am7 D

She says a change is as good as a rest.

G Csus C Csus

And their friends finally coming round to their way of thinking.

Am7 D7

She wears the trousers and smokes the pipe.

Am7 G

And he washes up; she helps him wipe.

F Am7 D7 G C

Cos when he puts on that dress, he looks like a princess.

Outro

G

He s out of the wardrobe and he s feeling all right.

G

He s out of the wardrobe and he s feeling satisfied.

F D7

Now it s farewell to the past,

C Em7 Am7 C/G

The secret s out at last.

F G

He s out of the wardrobe, and now he s got no regrets.
