The Taste For Honey
By: The Lilac Time

Verse 1:

C                                 Am                 Dm
In our young lives we walk a lonely road

C
Looking for home so we can run away

C                                 Am                 Dm
But now I ve found no key can set me free

Dm                                 C
What can it be, locked up so jealously?

CHORUS:

C                                 F                         G
And I got a taste for honey from your lips

C                                 F                         G
And now every other kiss is just a kiss

Dm                                 G
We get distracted, and love abstracted

C                                 F                         G                 C
Since I got a taste for honey from your lips

Verse 2:

C                                 Am                 Dm
By now we know the weather s going to change

Dm                                 C
But I will feel the same, groping for mysteries

C                                 Am                 Dm
I drove to you in a haunted car

Dm                                 C
To twilight at the bar of my life s complicities

Repeat Chorus:

C                                 F                 C                 F                 C
Come to me, ohh yeah, Ohh yeah

Repeat Chorus:

Guitar riff: C
