Year Of Driving Langourously The Lucksmiths

```
#-----#
#This file is the author s own work and represents their interpretation of the # #song. You may only use this file for private study, scholarship, or research. #
The Lucksmiths- The Year Of Driving Langourously
(Marty Donald)
Transcribed by Andy Willinger
Culver City, CA. USA [andy_willinger@yahoo.com]
Capo 5
G
    Bm
               Αm
  Darling roll the window down
  I can t breathe
  And I want to feel the northerly down my sleeve
  I love a sunburnt elbow pointing to the sea
               Am (3x)
G
C
   D7
  And, darling, can t you find us something on the radio?
  A song to pass the time
  Sweet and slow
  Conversation was forsaken long ago
  It s getting worse
  You ve hardly said a word
                 Αm
  Since you set eyes on the horizon
                            C
                                             Am
  But I ve seen the other side of that ocean there
  And it can t compare
Em
            C Am
                              D7
  Has it really been a year?
\mathbf{Em}
            C
  How did those days just disappear?
  We held our breath across each bridge
  Til we were blue
```

But I wonder if I wished the same as you Like a ten-year-old pretending Summer isn t really ending

Em

It s getting worse You ve hardly said a word Since you set eyes on the horizon But I ve seen the other side of that ocean there And it can t compare to this So I ll steal another kiss Before the sun goes down on this fibrotown And we give chase Like all those other days I suppose it s no surprise We drive, time flies C Am D7 Em C

Has it really been a year? Where the hell do we go from here?