

Aching Kind
The Mamas & The Papas

Aching Kind

C                                F                                C                Am                                E7                Am
You left me here holding my face, your words were cold as stone
G                                C                F                C                F                C
You should have known how I feel when Iâ€™m down on my knees
Dm                                F                                G                                C
Since youâ€™ve gone Iâ€™ve been so blue, baby you still on my mind
Dm                                G                                C
Cause Iâ€™ve always been one of the aching kind

Tonight will be one of those days so donâ€™t you run me down
Cause I blame him too, everybodyâ€™s saying your baby tired of you
Since youâ€™ve gone Iâ€™ve been so blue, baby you still on my mind
Cause Iâ€™ve always been one of the aching kind

Steel guitars, honky tonk bars,
Nothing makes you crazy lie singing in a rock and roll band
Since youâ€™ve gone Iâ€™ve been so blue, baby you still on my mind
Cause Iâ€™ve always been one of the aching kind

PS: this is a Michelle Philips song but I had nowhere else to put it.