I chose to use barre chords instead of regular chords because it gave off a fuller sound:
```
e|-5-3-1-2--2--3-|
B|-5-3-1-2--3--4-|
G|-5-4-2-3--4--5-|
D|-7-5-3-4--4--5-|
A|-7-5-3-4--2--3-|
E|-5-3-1-2--x--x-|
   Am G F F# Bm Cm

Intro:
Am G

(I play this as the verses just to keep it interesting)
e|---------------------------------------------------|
B|---------------------------------------------------|
G|----------5-----------5-------------4b4----------4b4-|
D|----------7-----------7-------------5------------5---|
A|------7---(7)-----7---(7)-------5---(5)------5---(5)--|
E|-5-5---5-(5)-5-5---5-(5)-5/3-3---3-(3)--3-3---3-(3)--|

       Am                                            G
If I trust in the wind she will pave me a different road
         Am                                            G
I will try and start over but I think I must choose someone else
       Am                                               G
I am pulled from the pages where the letters lack the pigment of trust
```

        F                       G
must be on my way, Iâ€™ve got to get home
          F                      G
wonâ€™t be back someday, so let it unfold

(Am G)
```
        Am                                          G
Iâ€™ve abandoned the outcome in search of the rest I deserve
         Am                                            G
you can do what you will with my body but I wonâ€™t ring the bell
```

        Am                                        G
I’ve omitted the chapters that bow and admit defeat

        F                           G
must be on my way, I’ve got to get home
          F                         G
won’t be back someday, so let it unfold

Am/G/F#   F
I Am A mountain
                G           Am/G/F#
of cavernous people
F                                    G
searching for a lighthouse in the fog
(Repeat twice)

(Am G)
          Am                                          G
of the flowers that grew from the cracks in the ground you paved
        Am                                              G
didn’t you think he would warn me through the thorns of my waking dreams
          Am                                G
when the riddles connected the dots of this constellation

        F                           G
must be on my way, I’ve got to get home
          F                         G
won’t be back someday, so let it unfold

Am/G/F#   F
I Am A mountain
                G           Am/G/F#
of cavernous people
F                                    G
searching for a lighthouse in the fog
(Repeat twice)

Bm                                      Cm
I found a reason to leave you with this load
Bm                                      Cm
all I can do is forgive your broken heart
Bm                                        Cm
trapped in this tower made of amber for too long Bm                                      Cm
all I can do is forgive your broken heart

Am/G/F#   F
I Am A mountain
                G           Am/G/F#
of cavernous people
F                                    G
searching for a lighthouse in the fog
(Repeat twice)
