

Ocean

The Microphones

Ocean

Dbm B A

You swam further out into the ocean.
I climbed higher in the tree,
At the top it started bending,
I swayed down to you in the sea.

When I saw you I called out your name,
let go and fell into the water.
And in between the crashing waves,
I swam out right underneath you.

Above me, you began to evaporate.
You floated up while I was reaching for you

(crazy strumming/drumming for dramatics)

(fast strumming)

And now, as a cloud, you visit me
Every night and every morning.

(softly close the song)

In between these times,
I m floating towards you.