Months
The Middle East

The Middle East â€" Months

Chords by Tazman Osborne

These chords would be better suited to a piano. If you would like a version that sounds better/more accurate
on guitar,use the sidebar function of this site to transpose it down two semitones and put a capo on fret 2.

a lot of the chords alternate between barred inversions of other chords, so Iâ€™ve sort of tried to capture that with slashes.
for eg. in the first line, the A/D/A is alternating between
A and a second
inverson of D (in a barred C chord shape), which is hammered onto the A chord, with the open A string remaining as the bass note.

[Verse 1]
```
                             Bm    Bm/E/Bm
Wake me          in the      morning
Bm                     A     A/D/A
Gonâ€™ wake me up at night
A               Bm                /E   /Bm
Ainâ€™t got no use for sleeping anymore
Bm                  A
Ainâ€™t got enough time
/D (2nd inversion)
For myself
     A            A7
Or time for my friends
      D             D/C# Bm->E(inv)->Bm
And, and I canâ€™t even write
                    A       /D/A
Just wake me up, itâ€™s fine
```

[Short instrumental]
```
C#m            Bm          x2
A          Bm/E/Bm
```

[Verse 2]
```
Let me go away, Hitch
                  A  /D/A
Away from where weâ€™ve grown
               Bm  /E
```

```
I've got dirty and did wandering
/B                            A
Through bars and foreign family homes
         G           F#
And I   never have cared
       Bm
To be alone
Em (barred 7th fret)  A7
     Now i just wanna feel
                   D
How you would feel
D/C#m      Bm    .  .  .
Left at home
F#sus2 -9th fret (X,9,11,11,9,9)(briefly before next chord)

[Climax]
(Strum on off beat.)
D D D D,   D D E
E,   Bm Bm Bm Bm,        A  A
C#7 C#7.
D D D D,   D D E
E,  Bm Bm C#m C#m, D D F#F#

Hey Hitch, hey Hitch
I'm coming home
Hey Ma, hey Pa
I'm coming home
Hey dirt, hey tree, hey little girl
I'm coming come
Hey heat, hey Chris
I'm coming home
D  .   .   .   F#sus2 (9th  fret)       x2
C#m D A  A,  A…

[Verse 3]
A                       Bm
    Well I seen many places
                       A
And they all been seen before
                       Bm
I done lost my Jack Luck spirit
                     A
I'm goin' back to hitch at home
```