

Orange Ball Of Love
The Mountain Goats

From the Mountain Goats Wiki by kevin ricker.
Instead of playing a real C#, play the standard D, 1 fret lower, and slide up to the D.
Don t mute the other strings - the dissonance is critical.
The add he does is merely him only depressing a D note (middle fingering on a standard D chord)
and letting the open G & E strings ring.
Second-to-last verse is probably wrong

C# D G
when I catch sight of your face
C# D G
and the late light falling on it
C# D A G D
I feel scared and I scope the area out for a good place to hide
C# D G
when I feel the way your fingers
C# D G
wiggle in my palm
C# D G
I feel warm and I feel good inside

D A
and I know that you re wearing a wire
D G
but as the sun becomes a blazing orange ball of fire D A D
I lose interest in this and other such inconsequential questions

C# D G
when you kick off your shoes
C# D G
and I see the wet grass give way underneath your feet C# D A
and the sunset rears up once more to its burial ground
G D well, you look so sweet

(D) (A)
and I know you ll be turning me in
(D) (G)
but I also know your real name s not Amy Lynn
(D) (A)
and as the orange globe rears up to swallow us, too,
(D) (G)
I see you look at me and figure out what I know about you

well, I m not telling

(A) (D)

I m not telling you anything
