Elvis Memphis The Mygales Words and music by Fabrice Perotto Intro $\hat{\mathbf{A}}$: \mathbf{E} \mathbf{A} \mathbf{G}

It was july 96 we touch the ground in Memphis
The head full of Rattle and Hum we want to know about Elvis
Hotel above Mississipi, like in Joanou movie
I wanna see where rock is born, I wanna feel this strange city

Chorus :Â

There is something ridiculous in Elvis Presleyâ \in [™]s house There is something delicious in Elvis Presleyâ \in [™]s groove There is something malicious in Elvis Presleyâ \in [™]s moves I am feeling marvelous in Elvis blue suede shoes Â

(We) rent a japanese limousine at the airport in Memphis Following telegraphic poles, Graceland we donâ \in ^{Mt} miss Pilgrimage in Beale street, BBâ \in ^{Ms} replace Elvis Here is born the legend, Here began the story.

ChorusÂ

It was July 96 we say goodbye to Memphis Going down Mississipi, make a stop at Ole'Miss Continue our trip and go straight on New Orleans May be with a little chance we see the ghost of Louis
