We lay by a river and looked at the stars
I said how tiny we are, girl, how tiny we are
It feels like floating, it feels like floating, it feels like floating

Lifetime is short, girl, and death is so long
I don t believe in no heaven, I just know that I m gone

Been looking so long (?) and I don t understand
Because it makes much more sense with my hands in your hands
It feels like floating, it feels like floating, it feels like floating
