The Rembrandts - Waiting To Be Opened

Intro:

C G

Verse:

C G
So you've loved, and you've lost
C G
Now you won't take another chance, at any cost
C G
You've run up, against a wall
C G
And you've been hurt so badly, just badly enough, to risk it all

Bridge:

Em G
And in the dark, you see your star shine through the window
Em C E
All through the night, you strain to understand

Chorus:

A E F#m A
Close your eyes, and you will see
F#m D A E
There are dreams that, are waiting to be woven
A E F#m A
Don't you weep, cause in your sleep
F#m D A E
There are doorways, waiting to be opened

Verse 2:

C G
And now you hide, beneath yourself
C G
And you don't let on that you could want, for someone else
C G
And so you carry, this torch alone
C G
Even though deep down you know she'll be, the only one

Bridge:

Em G
And in the dark, you see your star shine through the window

Em C E

All through the night, you strain to understand

Chorus:

A E F#m A
Close your eyes, and you will see
F#m D A E
There are dreams that, are waiting to be woven
A E F#m A
Don't you weep, cause in your sleep
F#m D A E
There are doorways, waiting to be opened

C#m F#m Bm A E
On to the end-hold back the tears, you feel like cryin
C#m F#m Bm
Oh please, don't pretend, that there's no hope
C E
And give up tryin

Solo:

A E F#m A
F#m D E
There are doorways...waiting to be opened...whooooah

Chorus:

A E F#m A
Close your eyes, and you will see
F#m D A E
There are dreams that, are waiting to be woven
A E F#m A
Don't you weep, cause in your sleep
F#m D A E
There are doorways, waiting to be opened

A E F#m D F#m A A E
