

For The Meantime
The Rifles

E (7th on A string)

Play the main body of the chord, but move the root note down from an E, to Eb,
C# (9th the E string) to a B, listen to the song for the rhythm. repeat.

then move up to a F#M, taking your little finger, placing it on the 12th fret on the e string.

E
And every day that I don t see your face is a tragedy,

E F#m
And time away could be time staring in your eyes,

E
And every day that I don t see your face feels forever to me,

E F#m
All the while I m away you ll be there on my mind,

E
And we might find,

B
In our lifetime,

C#m
That the lights go out,

B
And the tears fill up in our eyes

E
But it s only

B
For the meantime,

C#m
And before too long

B
I will be right there at your side

E
As every day that I don t see you smile is a tragedy

E F#m
And I m afraid that we might lose the feeling inside

E
Because there is no other sound that can make me go weak at the knees

E F#m
Like the sound of your voice on the end of a line

E

And we might find,

B

In our lifetime,

C#m

That the lights go out,

B

And the tears fill up in our eyes

E

But it s only

B

For the meantime,

C#m

And before too long

B

I will be right there at your side

E

For a while finish by ending with a repeat of the introduction, finish on an E
