A                               D
I m sittin in a bar tippling a jar in Jackson
  A                               B                               E
And on the street the summer sun it shines
      A                               D
There s many a bar-room queen I ve had in Jackson
      A                               E                               A
But I just can t seem to drink you off my mind

```

```

      E           A
It s the honky tonk women
      E                               A
Gimme, gimme, gimme the honky tonk blues

```

```

                               D
I laid a divorcee in New York City
  A           B           E
I had to put up some kind of a fight
  A                               D
The lady she all dressed me up in roses
  A           E           A
She blew my nose and then she blew my mind

```
