Dear Holly The Romany Rye The Romany Rye - Dear Holly the break I think is just F and C capo 2nd С G \mathbf{F} C Dear Holly, have you seen the rain? С G F С I am a ghost town, with seven empty lakes F Em And the times they are strange, they show no signs of change С G C I am cast down like the belly of a snake No harvest, no kingdom come One promise, again to never flood Calm as the sea, on a day with no breeze My tears have turned to blood Backs folding, beneath all the lies We need water to grow, and wine to die And the reasons they are few, All my dreams came untrue And my desire could not be satisfied Time driftin , across seven blue seas For strong winds, blow as they please Under God s great sky, we ask for reasons why We are all bound to have days like these

Dear Holly, can you feel the rain? Or the soft breeze, gently to your face Oh the times they are strange, they are bound to change Every good man, needs a little break
