E-(3)-(3)-(3)-(3)-(3)

C
Two lovers stuck in a sweet embrace
Hoping it ll never move or change
In the lost love and dust of a summer home

Am
Two people growing up getting old
And in the light of a thousand eyes

I never wanted as you tonight
And all the lovers civilized

Am
They ll never be the ones to hold you tight
And if I ever hold you again

Dm G C
I will hold you tight enough to crush your veins

C Em Dm
I hope your heart is good and strong

G C
If you find yourself in my arms

Em Dm
I hope your heart is good and strong

G C
If you find yourself in my arms

Intro riff

Two lovers stuck in a sweet embrace
Hoping to never lose a race
As the wind travels into their little bones
From a mouth speaking screaming in hushed tones

Am
And if I fly away to the cost
Your face it haunts me more them most

And If I ever hold you again
I will hold you tight enough to crush your veins

Am

And you will die and become a ghost

Dm G

Haunt me till my pulse felt so slow

C Em Dm
I hope your heart is good and strong

G C
If you find yourself in my arms

Em Dm
I hope your heart is good and strong

G C
If you find yourself in my arms

C Em Dm G
