

Pleasure Cruise
the scary jokes

[Verse 1]

D Bm
Down by the bay, a man made of clay
D Bm
Dips his toes into the ocean, trying to wash himself away
D Bm
He jumps into the pond and he starts to dissolve
D Bm
And he dreams about the streams that bleed into the Amazon

[Pre-Chorus]

D Bm
If you are a boulder that never leaves the shore
D Bm
You ll get ground up into sand and tracked onto the floor
D Bm D
Swept into a pile on someone s kitchen tile

[Chorus]

Em G Em Bm D
These hurricanes have led my heart astray
Em E D
But maybe if I try my hardest, I ll finally chase the rainclouds all away

[Verse 2]

D Bm
I heard on the news that they keep finding shoes
D Bm
On the shores of Ecuador and no one knows what they should do
D Bm
They tried to give them away but there s more every day
D Bm
Ballet shoes in shades of blue and rubber boots and mary janes

[Pre-Chorus]

D Bm
If you have to get away, don t take a pleasure cruise
D Bm
Cause you might get swept away, and you ll lose your shoes
D Bm D
They ll end up in a pile on some foreign isle

[Chorus]

Em G Em Bm D
These hurricanes have led my heart astray
Em E D
But maybe if I try my hardest, I ll finally chase the rainclouds all away

[Pre-Chorus]

D Bm G D
In a couple years, the land will disappear under the ocean
D Bm G D
When that day is here, I ll pack a bathing suit and tanning lotion

[Bridge]

F#m G
I ll let the waves take me away

(In a couple years, the land will disappear under the ocean)

F#m G D
I ll let the waves take me away

(When that day is here, I ll pack a bathing suit and tanning lotion)

D B G B D G D E
Away, away, away
