The Shivers

Artist: The Shivers

[<http://www.myspace.com/shiversnyc>]

Song: L.I.E.

Album: Charades (2004)

Tabbed by: Rigoletto [lol.i.am.satan -at- gmail -dot- com]

This should be pretty close and playable. I think the guitar is tuned a half-fret lower on the recording. It might also be a little out of tune.

Capo 3rd fret (or whatever)

Your mother s life you oughta found in photographs.

I ll never stay

Too insecure, to breathe dust, and to run away.

Fly, fly, fly, so high, the geese fly south

To steal the kiss upon your scared little winter mouth.

I m gettin to know you girl..

G

I ve seen you with your glasses on,

G7

I ve seen you in your daddy s arms,

C

I ve seen you drive a car.

I m gettin to love you more

With each day gone by,

With each wish upon a shooting star,

I wish for your love.

I m freakin out.

I run my mouth

My life s a series of circles.

Brooklyn queens, Manhattan dreams

And trips out to the autumn.
Your big brown eyes go searchin me,
I want those eyes a-smilin .

F

Honey, you re a fool to think that I won t follow.
And I m not a poet and I m not a clown.
I just think these things and then I write them down.

Spin, spin, spin, it round again.
Darlin , if you change, I m still your friend.
Spin, spin, spin, it round the world,
You re the sun, the stars, the oceans
You re just a girl.
Spin, spin, spin it round the moon
I ll be singin with my modest lover s croon.
