F#m            A                    E
what if the sun refused to shine?
                 G#m                    B
what if the clouds refused to rain?
F#m            A                    E
what if the wind refused to blow?
                 G#m                    B
what if the seas refused to wave?
F#m            A                    E
what if the world refused to turn?
                 G#m                    B
what if the stars would hesitate?

   A
what if what is isn t true?
                 G#m                    B
what are you going to do?
   A
what if what is isn t you?
                 G#m                    E
does that mean you ve got to lose?
digging for the feel of something new

F#m            A                    E
what if the silence let you dream?
                 G#m                    B
what if the air could let you breathe?
F#m            A                    E
what if the words would bring you here?
                 G#m                    B
what if this sound could bring you peace?

   A
what if what is isn t true?
                 G#m                    E
what are you going to do?
digging for the feel of something new
what if what is isn t you?
                 G#m                    B    A    G#m    B

what are you going to do?

what if the clouds refused to rain?
F#m A E
what if the world refused to turn?
G#m B
what if the clocks would hesitate?

A
what if what is isn t true?
G#m B
what are you going to do?
A
what if what is isn t you?
G#m E
does that mean you ve got to lose?
G#m B A
digging for the feel of something new

G#m B
does that mean you ve got to choose?
the feel of something new
G#m B
does that mean you ve got to lose?
the thoughts you cannot lose
G#m B
what are you gonna do?
