

The Echoes Of Time
The Smiles And Frowns

The Echoes of Time by The Smiles and Frowns
Tabbed by Alec Brandt

I didn't use a capo when figuring the chords for this, but there is most certainly one somewhere.
Whatever works with your voice is what I always say.
I know it's a bit off. So feel free to post corrections if you have them and you can also email me at plannedboredom@yahoo.com

F#

My bones are achin

G#m

and I've lost my mind

My dizzy head is

C#

spinning all the time

And I don't

F#

know where I'm goin',

G#m

do I still have time?

Before the sun has

left me with no shine

Only the

B echoes of

F#

time

Like

C#

ripples in the water

Or a mother and a daughter

And the

B

sun shining be-

F#

low

Al-

C#

though it's out of sight

We know it's shining through the night

But we don't

B know if it will

F#

last

Al-

C#

though it s here today
today will turn into the past And so we

B

wait with hopeful

F#

minds

C#

Hope for life eternal
For echoes we leave behind Echoes in

time

C#

the echoes of

F#

time

B

the echoes of

C#

time

F#

I can t stop thinking

G#m

of the better days
Before I knew I

C#

was lost in a maze
That keeps me

F#

goin in circles

G#m

stuck here on the ground
A painted dragon

C#

on a merry-go-round
With

B

the echoes of

F#

time

Like

C#

ripples in the water
Or a mother and a daughter
And the

B

sun shining be-

F#

low

Al-

C#

though it s out of sight
We know it s shining through the night
But we don t

B

know if it will

F#

last

Al-

C#

though it s here today
today will turn into the past
And so we

B

wait with hopeful

F#

minds

C#

Hope for life eternal
For echoes we leave behind Echoes in

time

C#

the echoes of

F#

time

B

the echoes of

C#

time

(end on F#)
