Bm Bm E E

[Verse 1]

A D A D
I kissed you under stars and stripes
Bm
Soaked in golden lantern light
E
Right as the sun rose
A D
As you held me in your arms
A D
I felt that you were the one
Bm
I wish I d always known
E
I think a new love has found home

[Chorus]

A E
I died, Lord I swear that I died
G D
When first I, I laid eyes on you
A E
And when I try to make sense of my life
G D
It just doesn t seem fitting without you
A E
Well, I m no child, but I sure ain t no man
G D
I ve got doubts and a poor understanding
A E
I can t give you much except all of my love
G D
And a promise I ll never abandon

[Verse 2]

A D A D
You took a picture of me the morning after
Bm E

To capture the first breath of our old souls love

A D
As your blue eyes shone brightly
A D
You called me red, white, and beauty

Bm
You said I d never grow old

E
And If I did you d come along

A D
I know I still make you nervous

A D
So just smoke all my cigarettes

Bm
And remember the first time

E
You kissed me that dawn

[Chorus]

A E
I died, Lord I swear that I died
G D
When first I, I laid eyes on you
A E
And when I try to make sense of my life
G D
It just doesn t seem fitting without you
A E
Well, I m not a child, but I m hardly a man
G D
I ve got doubts and a poor understanding
A E
I can t give you much except all of my love
G D
And a promise I ll never abandon
