Some silver-screen starlet but it s my story she s living in in a smoke-filled room pressed up against the door see how it s shining through the dark as the kettle boils

and it illuminates the room eyes on this prize

so close to my pale skin

Intro

Same black and white blonde you know the face but never her name hillbilly young boys without a tooth between them

And see how it s shining through the dark spinning a dream for the wide-awake
entertain me
F#add11
fixing your eyes on the prize

hello
i m drowning in your tide

welcome
i m there
