[Verse 1]
```
Em            A          D      G
   I m just a dreamer but I m hanging on
Em              A         D    G
   Though I am nothing big to offer
Em              A            D       G
   I watch the birds, how they dive in then gone
        F#             G         Asus4    A
It s like nothing in this world s ever still
```

[Verse 2]
```
Em              A         D            G
   And I m just a shadow of your thoughts in me
Em          A           D    G
   But sun is setting, shadows growing
Em             A        D    G
   A long cast figure will turn into night
        F#                 G         Asus4    A
```

It s like nothing in this world ever sleeps

[Chorus]
```
     D               G           A         D
Oh, sometimes the blues is just a passing bird
     Bm              G       Asus4   A
And why can t that always be?
D        G           A         D
Tossing aside from your birches crown
Bm          G       Asus4    A
Just enough dark to see
                        (same as intro)
                        Em A D G
How you re the light over me
```

Em7 A D G

[Verse 3]
```
Em              A                   D       G
   And by your side, girl, where the acres grow
Em          A               D       G
   Into the strong and stunning meadow
Em          A           D       G
   A cowboy stumbling in the finest field
    F#                  G           Asus4    A
And nothing good out there won t be yours
```

[Chorus]
```
     D               G           A         D
Oh, sometimes the blues is just a passing bird
     Bm              G       Asus4   A
And why can t that always be?
D        G           A         D
Tossing aside from your birches crown
Bm          G       Asus4    A
Just enough dark to see
                        (same as chorus)
                        D G A D
How you re the light over me

Bm G Asus4 A

[Chorus]
```
D               G           A         D
Sometimes the blues is just a passing bird
     Bm              G       Asus4   A
And why can t that always be?
D        G           A         D
