Where do my bluebirds fly?

And as the early sigh of dawn will thunder

I see you stir the fog around

And when you find the voice and gears of sunset

we ll hear that high and lonesome sound, oh

And I will question every wind

if they ve gone through the glow of your eyes, oh

You re just a riddle in the sky

Where do my bluebirds fly?

Where do my bluebirds fly?

Oh, well I know you stroke your feathers baby upon the ghosts along my trail

And I know well I was sold and buried before I knew it was for sale, oh

With all this fever in my mind

I should aim for your kerosene eyes

Oh, you re just a target in the sky

Where do my bluebirds fly?
