

On The Floor
The Vamps

Intro: A E F#m D

A E
I, I don t wanna say goodnight
F#m
But I know if I come inside
D A
That I d be playing with your heart and with your mind
E
Something that I always do
F#m D
But if I tell you from the get-go, I can let go
A
And I ll leave it up to you

( A E F#m D )

F#m D E
So open up the door
A F#m
I know that you can t wait
D *E E
Til our clothes are on the floor, on the floor, on the floor
*=add pinky on 3rd fret, F# string

D A F#m E
And I will take you there if you let me take you
D A *E E
To places that you ve never been, never been before
D A F#m E
And I love that dress you wear, but it s whatever
D A *E E D
Cause I think that it would look much better on the floor, on the floor

A E
Don t call me 20 times a day,
F#m
Running out of things to say
D A
Let s not get too obsessed to keep it fresh that way
E F#m
It s something you should always do, it s still romantic
D A
Less dramatic, but it don t mean I m not fanatic about you

( A E F#m D )

F#m            D            E

So open up the door

A                            F#m

I know that you can't wait

Til our clothes are on the floor, on the floor, on the floor

D                            A                            F#m                            E

And I will take you there if you let me take you

D                            A                            *E                            E

To places that you've never been, never been before

D                            A                            F#m                            E

And I love that dress you wear, but it's whatever

D                            A                            *E                            E                            D

Cause I think that it would look much better on the floor, on the floor

E                            F#m

And I will love you, if you let me

D                            A

Tell me what I'm supposed to do

E

Cause there's no other

F#m                            D

Place that I would rather be

*E                            E

Than here with you (Darling, I know you can't wait)

D                            A                            F#m                            E

And I will take you there if you let me take you

D                            A                            *E                            E

To places that you've never been, never been before

D                            A                            F#m                            E

And I love that dress you wear, but it's whatever

Cause I think that it would look much better

D                            A                            F#m                            E

And I will take you there if you let me take you

D                            A                            *E                            E

To places that you've never been, never been before

D                            A                            F#m                            E

And I love that dress you wear, but it's whatever

D                            A                            *E                            E

Cause I think that it would look much better

D                            A

On the floor, on the floor

F#m                            E

(It would look much better)

D                            A

On the floor, on the floor

( A )
